In a big, deep frying pan, fry the prosciutto in the olive oil, on medium heat for 2 minutes. Add the onion and garlic and continue to fry until translucent. Then, add the sprouts and stir well on a low heat for about 4 minutes, until these are cooked too.

Pour the fresh cream over the whole and when it boils, let the whole simmer for 4 minutes. Add salt and pepper to taste and remove from heat. Add the Parmesan and nutmeg and serve hot.
