Seaswarm: A robot to clean up oil spills?

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

Seaswarm is pretty similar to Ocean Therapy Solutions' device which filters crude oil from sea water, because it is designed to specifically siphon crude oil from sea water at a spill site. Ocean Therapy Solutions' largest device could siphon up to 200 gallons a minute, but Seaswarm claim that as a collective group, their machines can work together to clean even larger areas of ocean.
