Pastor Igor Zyryanov from the Irkutsk Region after 18 years of working at Protestant meetings and two years of pastoral missionary work converted to Orthodoxy together with his family and community.

“It wasn’t easy for us, but now and in future we will further study and follow the Lord on Orthodox thousand-year path. But the most important is that now we enjoy plenitude as if I was searching for 18 years and couldn’t find, was drinking but couldn’t quench my thirst, was eating but couldn’t satisfy hunger,” Zyryanov writes in his article The Lord took me home! published at the Irkutsk Diocese website.
